

GOLD MINE OF HONEY FOUND IN ROCK BANKS

Oil Men's Discovery is The Result Of A Sting of A Bee.

Jerry McKay, a well-known oil man from Sapulpa, related a very odd story that of a bee sting resulting in the finding of a gold mine of honey in the rock banks near Sapulpa.

M. L. Kelley and John Caney, two prominent oil men of Sapulpa, are the parties implicated in the story. Mr. Kelley and Mr. Caney started out Monday morning from Sapulpa to drive to a well they are drilling on the boggy land, seven miles west of Sapulpa. The men were about half way to the well when suddenly they were attacked by a large drove of bees. The bees swarmed about the buggy and stung the men and horses until they were compelled to seek refuge. They whipped up their team and drove to the cabin of an Indian named Watahee. Here they told of their adventure and had the pain alleviated by the Indian, who put some kind of preparation on their wounds.

In conversation with the Indian concerning the occurrence they were told of the myan bees in the hills and cave, about three miles west of Sapulpa. They did not believe this story at first. He said that the Indians around his cabin were getting gallons of honey in the cave every day. This set the oil men to thinking. That afternoon they went to the place he told them of. On their way they met an old Indian woman, who was carrying two pails of sparkling strained honey. This encouraged them.

They came upon a big post oak in the field. This had been hacked in several places and the honey was dripping from the cut in the tree into regular pools on the ground. They did not stop at the tree, but went on to the cave. As they neared the rock cliffs they could hear a droning like that of sighing pine trees, so many in number were the bees. As they came closer they could see kind of black cloud hovering before the rocks. There must have been fifty big swarms of bees around the rocks.

When they were close up to the cliff they noticed huge cracks in the rocks, and large holes. In these the honey was dripping almost in small streams. There were some twenty buckets and pails setting in the rocks catching the honey. The Indians are said to break the combs of honey with sticks, and let the honey run out into pails. A pail will fill in two days time. It is said that the finding of this great bee industry by the oil men accounts for the great amount of strained honey the Indians have been marketing. It was thought before that the Indians raised the bees.

The oil men say that the sand stones in the cliffs are just saturated with honey and a little piece of stone in a bucket of water will sweeten it. The discoverers are at a loss to know how the bees came to be there. It is said by Indians and other old timers in this section that about ten years ago an old Indian who had a few bees was killed. It is thought by them that his bees went wild and multiplied and increased in number until at present there are millions of honey makers. —Tulsa Democrat.

Finger Nails Eleven feet Long.

A scientist has estimated that in a lifetime of seventy years a man grows nails, which if it were possible to preserve them uncut, would reach the length of seven feet nine inches.

Exactly on what arguments this statement is based it is hard to say for a little observation will show that during the greater portion of a man's life he cuts his nails on an average of once a week and at each paring removes a sixteenth of an inch, or the equivalent of a quarter of an inch per month working out at three inches a year.

This would give him a growth of seven feet six inches during the thirty

A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as a savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with over work. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, dependent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, or "sour risings" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advised.

Don't accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret medicine of known composition.

years he lives between twenty and fifty. In the other forty years when the growth is less rapid he would certainly produce four feet of nails, so that eleven feet is a better average for the nail-producing capacity of man.

It should be noted however, that the growth of the nails on the right hand is, in most people more rapid than those on the left hand, and it may be that the scientist in question has based his argument on the slower growth of the left-hand nails.

Another curious point is that the rate of growth of the nails depends directly on the length of the finger; thus the nails on the two middle fingers of men grow more rapidly than those on the first and third finger, respectively and these in return are more speedy in their growth than those on the little fingers. —Stray Stories.

ENCAMPMENT WILL BE AT EARLINGTON OCT. 6

Third Regiment Will Be Stationed There for Ten Days. --- Rifle Range Almost Ready.

The Hustler has been reliably informed that the annual encampment of the Third regiment of the Kentucky National Guard will be held at Earlington for ten days, commencing Oct. 6, according to the present plans of the military officers of the state.

The rifle range at Earlington is almost completed and will be in readiness for the use of the members of the Third regiment when the encampment is held. It is situated near the head of Loch Mary and is an ideal location.

The selection of our neighboring city as the place to hold the annual encampment is a wise one on the part of those at the head of the military of the state and it will mean much for the residents of that city. There are ten companies in the regiment and they will be quartered near the city.

Death Penalty Imposed Upon James.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 17.—To-night the jury in the case of Joseph James murderer, returned a verdict of guilty and fixed the penalty at death. James took the verdict unconcernedly. There was no demonstration.

James killed C. A. Ballard, the crime being largely responsible for precipitation of the recent riot in Springfield. Immediately after the jury retired Judge Creighton ordered Abraham Raymer into Court for trial thus showing a determination to rush all riot cases to speedy trials.

Raymer is the alleged mob leader indicted for inciting riot, malicious mischief and murder in connection with the lynching of William K. Donagan on the night of August 15.

VARIOUS LAWS MADE FOR AERIAL NAVIGATION.

City Fathers in Kissimmee, Florida Have Wisely Led The Way.

Recently the city of Kissimmee, Fla., provoked a glad and general smile by promulgation of sundry and certain laws to regulate the speed of balloons and airships, and the general conduct of those who navigate the atmospheric main.

The consensus of editorial opinion from Maine to Mexico was that such laws would not be needed for many years to come and brilliant paragaphers had a whole lot of fun at the expense of the Florida solons and their enactments. The Kissimmee city fathers have held their peace under fire and, behold, in a few short weeks comes justification of their wisdom an evidence that even more stringent law will be needed and that soon.

A Gotham aeronaut had the misfortune to alight in a Hoboken garden. Being a skillful pilot he effected his landing with no injury to the trees or vegetables, but an unlooked-for complication has led to a suit against him for damages nevertheless, and legal wiseacres are all at sea.

We are all familiar with the sudden appearance of a crowd whenever an automobile breaks down, the interest with which they gather close about the disabled machine, and the ingenious disinterestedness with which they proffer advice. Well, this all applies to the balloon, only more so. Thus, when the Gotham balloonist's intention of alighting became apparent, several hundred of Hoboken's well-meaning citizens made haste to the scene anxious no doubt, to be of assistance.

They knocked down fences, trampled plants and vegetables into the ground uprooted shrubs and injured young trees past all recovery.

The owner of the garden contends that the Gotham balloonist was to blame for all the damage, while he insists that he could not possibly have prevented the neighborhood incursion and the accompanying agricultural disaster.

Here is an interesting question which the Journal begs respectfully to suggest as a substitute for debating purposes for some of the time-honored problems usually dealt with.

DEAF MUTE HUSBAND ASKS FOR DIVORCE.

Has Quarrel With Wife Over Her Cooking Pigs Feet Toes and All.

New York, Sept. 17.—A quarrel over the way to cook pigs' feet was the beginning of the troubles which led to a matrimonial suit in the New Jersey Court of Chancery to-day when James W. Nash of Newark, sought a divorce from Sarah L. Nash.

Both are deaf mutes, and several of the witnesses and counsel employed the sign language in testifying. The courtroom often was absolutely silent, though stormy scenes were taken place. The plaintiff charges desertion.

Under cross-examination Mr. Nash indicated in the finger language that the difficulty started when he brought pigs' feet home for dinner and asked his wife not to cook the toes. The pigs' feet were served, toes and all, and a quarrel followed. Mr. Nash waved a denial to the question if he had struck his wife on that occasion.

When Mrs. Nash testified she said she remembered the incident of the pigs' feet and their toes. She said that after they separated she couldn't live on the $1 a week her husband allowed her, and asked him to let her do his washing, but he refused.

Sunflower Philosophy.

For one reason, the Women are to be envied: If there is any one they hate they seldom see them. If a man has an enemy, he meets him 16 times a day.

Every young married couple has a set of nut crackers and nut picks. The people who have been married as long as 10 years have no other way of cracking nuts than by using a hatchet.

When a girl's dearest friend gets married and she describes her husband to you, take off one quarter for enthusiasm, and then a quarter for ignorance. If she says the bridegroom is a rich man, it means that he gets possibly $85 a month.

When a married man wants a mess of turkey it costs him at least $2.50, considering the price of the bird, the cost of the oysters to stuff it, and the cranberry sauce. Besides he has to carve it. But an unmarried man can go to a restaurant and get all the turkey he wants for 15 cents.

Where do the women read all the wonderful things they tell about? When a crowd of women get together, each one has some horrible story to tell. It is usually as story about some wicked man; he tied his wife in a chair, and tickled her to death, or he was married 17 times, and kept his dead wives locked in a room. Some of the stories are told in a whisper. If there is a man in the house, and some bride present will say she wonders if it is true. "Of course it is," the married women will say. "There never was a man too good to do such things if he had a chance."

DEMAND FOR WHEAT RAISES FLOUR'S PRICE.

Heavy Export Trade Makes Shortage---Increase of 25 Cents Per Barrel.

Influenced by probably one of the biggest export movements in years and also by a big milling demand price of wheat has taken an extraordinary jump since Monday putting local dealers at variance with each other and considerably affecting the local grain trade. Local experts were of the opinion last Friday when a basis of ninety eight cents per bushel was reached, that the advance had run its course but a shortage in the world crop of some where in the neighborhood of 300,000, bushels has stimulated European buying up to 2,500,000 bushels the first three days of this week forcing the price up to $1.2 per bushel yesterday.

The advance in wheat," said an official of one of the big local milling plants yesterday, "is also responsible for the increase in the market price of flour, a twenty-five-cent advance per barrel being declared on winter straights and patents yesterday."

BIG WAD OF MONEY FOUND IN COAT LINING

Man in Louisville Arrested Under Peculiar Circumstances.

The Louisville Times of yesterday gives the account of the arrest of Daniel P. Gentile, who was arrested in that city as a suspect. When arrested Gentile stated that he had sold out his business at 62 Mulberry street, New York and that he was on his way to Owensboro to visit his mother.

When arrested by detectives at the Tenth street station the fact that $1,508.85 was sewed in the lining of Gentile's clothing was brought out and caused suspicion on account of conflicting stories. He is thought to answer the description of one Peter Gentile wanted at Oakland, Cal.

When arrested Gentile refused to give any information as to his address or name. But a search in his suit case brought forth letters addressed to Daniel P. Gentile, which was finally admitted by the prisoner to be his name. Gentile is an Italian. He is well known in Owensboro and is a brother of Joe Gentile, formerly of Owensboro. Joe Gentile was very successful here and brought the larger number of the Italians now living in the city here.
